Ms. Entren:—It is snowing for the first time this winter and as I was thinking of the past, I let my mind lead me back to old Maury, and can say to Isom Store's correspondence that I would have liked to have been at his only killing. Mr. Editor we have a good many Maury county people in this part of the Lone Star State, and I don't know of any but who have good homes, and from 160 to 1000 acres of good land. There is one thing a man has to do when he leaves the old State to come to Texas, and that is, he must give up spout springs and running brooks; and I would not advise any one who is get-ting old and has a good home in old Maury to sell out and try a frontier life. But don't tell me that a young man can do better there renting land, paying from four to five dollars per acre, when he can buy land here and elsewhere for from three to five dollars an acre, I sold out there, and I would not move back again if I could get my old place as a present and bind me to live there the balance of my life.
